AAGP Scholars Program for Medical Students and Residents:

- The AAGP Annual Meeting is the premier educational event in geriatric mental health care, providing the latest information on clinical care, research on aging and mental health, and models of care. The AAGP membership provides scholarship funding for eligible medical students and psychiatry residents to attend the AAGP Annual Meeting and supports a special educational program for trainees during the meeting. The aim of the Scholars Program is to encourage trainees to pursue specialized training in geriatric psychiatry to meet the mental health needs of the expanding population of older Americans.
